

Time	Question
Ep 8 1:18	As a member of parliament how has it affected you as an MP of Sydney?
Ep 8 5:11	Are you still sitting in Parliament and still dealing with the norms of what you need to do as a Member of Parliament, and how does that then translate out from a local, state, and federal government level in terms of the sharing of information?
Ep 8 08:04	This sounds like an unprecedented level of collaboration across all spheres of Government. Have you in your experience and your time as an MP ever had any level of collaboration on anywhere near this level?
Ep 8 09:59	Do you think that the issues affecting your electorate are more pronounced or more nuanced based on the amount of high density living you have in your electorate?
Ep 8 14:37	In terms of technical compliances and where we have a health priority what is the governments stance?
Ep 8 18:32	How do you continue to advocate for both landlords and tenants to make sure that one isn't left behind in terms of protection and stimulus?
Ep 8 22:49	How do we balance that challenge of meeting statutory compliance that exists for owners corporations to preserve life safety and obviously being sympathetic to the fact that some residents have not granted that access?
Ep 8 25:23	Defects and Cladding. Do we continue pushing these agendas during this time?
Ep 8 29:58	Have you heard of stories within your electorate in terms of waste capacity? Is it an emerging issue within the Sydney electorate?
Ep 8 33:52	What is your view on the approach to short term platforms in the current environment, and to the introduction of laws to start tomorrow which enables strata buildings to be able to make laws to limit in some cases Short Term Letting?
Ep 8 40:50	Is the state parliament capable of meeting electronically by phone or other means in the current situation to deal with pressing legislation?
Ep 8 43:10	Are you hearing the kinds of stories that give you confidence that as a community, we're pulling together, and conversely hearing those stories that sadden you around the way our behaviours as a community probably don't stand up to the values that we'd like to see?
Ep 8 46:24	Are you fielding constantly questions from people particularly your electorate around how do we interpret the laws and how challenging is that to give your frontline staff and yourself the tools to be able to answer those questions?
Ep 8 49:29	What do you think is the government's role in terms of being that single source of truth, and what is government's role and what role do you think that association, such as ours and others who can contribute to the to the discussion can provide, particularly when we need information in a very timely manner in a fluid changing landscape?